

Work:

as a teacher at the Faculty of Arts - Helwan University – Department of geography and geographic information systems.

Education:

- Bachelor of Arts degree from the Department of Geography - Survey and Maps Division, May 2012, with a grade of very good (honors).
- Master of Arts degree in geography with excellent grade in 2016 in the subject of transport between the banks of the Nile River south of the ring road until the show "geographical study using geographic information systems"
- Doctor of Arts degree in geography with first class honors in 2020 in The subject of the Suez Canal crossings and their impact on economic development east of the canal, "a study in the geography of transport using geographic information systems".

Published research:

- The transport effectiveness of river ferries south of the ring road until the identification "A geography+ical study using geographic information systems" in the Journal of the Faculty of Arts - Helwan University, April 2015.

Scientific Conferences:

- The First International Scientific Geographical Conference held from

Name:

Mohamed Salem
Saadawi Salem

Date of birth:

16 /2 /1991

Marital Status:

Married with three children

Address:

Cairo - Helwan - Ain Helwan.

T: 01119318429

Email :

M.S202066@Yahoo.Com

27: 29 April, 2015, entitled Trends of Sustainable Development in the Arab World and Future Prospects.

- The regional conference of the Department of Geography - Faculty of Arts - Cairo University, entitled "The Role of Geography in the Problems of Our Arab World".

Career Progression:

- Demonstrator from March 2014 to August 2016.
- Assistant Lecturer from August 2016 to October 2020.
- Lecturer in the Department of Geography since October 2020.